

A Foundation For our Future

The Walker Area Community Foundation serves a unique role in our community: helping to systematically turn a vision of a vibrant future into reality. "Through our work to create access to natural resources and fresh foods: the campaign to encourage students to look to their future through educational opportunities, the development of our downtowns, and the great work in progress by so many organizations, the Foundation is creating shared excitement and optimism about this time in the life of our community," says Paul Kennedy, President of the Foundation.

Research shows that it takes a population of at least 100,000 to build a successful Community Foundation. Walker County and its friends have proved the research wrong. Since the Foundation's inception, it has grown from $6 million to $66 million, all the while giving away more than $20 million to over 500 nonprofit organizations benefiting Walker County residents. Laura and David Ulz both grew up in the Midwest, where they lived and worked most of their lives. Upon retirement, they were drawn to the beauty and serenity of Lewis Smith Lake. "We are impressed the Foundation has a long-term vision for the future and has the best interests of the area in mind. It supports a broad range of nonprofits from basic needs of the community, education, and the arts. We share the beliefs and visions of the families who built the Foundation and through our gifts join in the challenge."

It is very important to the Foundation's leadership to be responsible in how they handle the money entrusted to them, investing it for both grant making and sustainability. A detailed analysis of our financial statement and the people who have so generously helped this Foundation, can be found at wacf.org/financials. Suffice it to say, the Foundation is strong, in good shape and poised for the future.

We have a sophisticated grant review process that measures the results of the grants we make to assure we are investing our grant dollars with impact. Emily Donaldson Brasher has served the Foundation as a Grant Reviewer for the last few years and says, "The Community Foundation has a grant application process that is one of the best I have seen. I have been on the other side writing grants, and the process that the Foundation uses is effective. Everyone, from the Donor Advised Funds to the Grant Review Committee to the Board of Directors, is very personally involved in making sure the funds are awarded in a way that the community receives the most benefit."

New Funds For our Foundation

While the Community Fund, the general unrestricted fund of the Walker Area Community Foundation, makes grants only to benefit Walker County, we also have Component Funds. Component Funds have the ability to advise our Board of Directors to make distributions from their funds to organizations that meet their interests, not only in Alabama, but throughout the United States as well. We are pleased to report that in 2018, six new funds were created.

Don Drummond Family Fund

The family of Don Drummond came together at the end of 2018 to create a fund in his memory. Don and Billie Ruth Drummond have given to the nonprofits in our community for years, giving when they see a need and giving generously. The family will continue to do so through their fund. Upon creation of the fund, Mrs. Drummond said, "Walker Area Community Foundation knows the greatest needs in our community. I know the money we have given will go to meet those needs."

Joe and Annette Kelley Fund

Joette Kelley-Brown and Alicia Kelley Stewart recently started a fund to be able to give back to the community that has taken such good care of them, as well as to honor their mom and dad. Kelley-Brown says, "I have seen the many great things the Walker Area Community Foundation has done for this community. The improvements to nonprofits, helping individuals, investing in our youth, and the health and wellness of others has been vast. They have an amazing ability to gather the right people together at the right time, all while having a vision for the future for generations to come. That is exactly why my sister and I chose this foundation to honor our parents, who were the first to teach us the importance of giving back and helping others. We couldn't think of a better way to honor our parents than starting this fund with the Walker Area Community Foundation. Stewart agrees. "Our parents have been so instrumental in our lives by showing how much a kind word or gesture can change someone's life," she says. "I am so proud to be their daughter and want to carry on what they have taught me – to put others before yourself."

The Kelley Family Fund

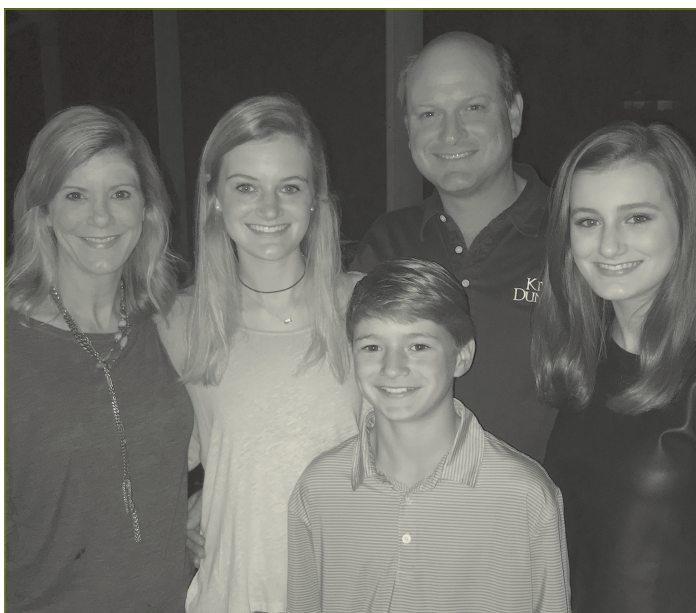

KUB Philanthropic Fund

KUB Philanthropic Fund

"It can be daunting to find the best way to give of one's time, talents or treasures. Starting a donor-advised fund with the WACF was an easy decision for us, because the WACF works tirelessly to combine our contributions with those of other donors to make the most direct impact in the lives of our community," says Karyn and Brent in response to choosing the Walker Area Community Foundation as their vehicle to give back to the community. The KUB Philanthropic Fund will support the general needs of nonprofit organizations in both Walker and Jefferson County.

Patrick and Debbie Drummond Fund

Patrick and Debbie Drummond created a fund to support general philanthropy needs in and around Walker County. "Walker County has been extremely good to our family, and the Foundation provides the perfect opportunity to touch many different needs of the community," says Drummond. Patrick and Debbie will involve their three children, Mary Stewart, Lindsay Jane, and Miller in the grant review process, teaching them how to give money with impact to the organizations they love.

Patrick and Debbie Drummond Fund

Terri Drummond Lyon Fund

Terri Drummond Lyon recently began a fund to continue to expand upon the legacy that her father, Larry Drummond, and the original board of directors of the Foundation began many years ago. "Even though I no longer live in Jasper, I feel like it's home," says Terri. This fund will use her fund to support nonprofits working in and around Walker County.

Terri Drummond Lyon Fund

Wright Family Fund

Haig Wright has been involved with the Walker Area Community Foundation since our inception. As a past board member and current volunteer, he is intimately involved in the activities of the Foundation. "I chose to begin a fund at the Walker Area Community Foundation because I've seen the money at work. The Foundation puts local people, boots on the ground, to go into organizations to see the true need, interviewing the people that lead to see where the money will be the most impactful and then giving to where it is most needed."

The Wright Family Fund

Together, this Foundation and its Component Funds create opportunities for greatness, not only for nonprofits, municipalities and schools, but also for the individuals living, working and playing throughout our communities.

The Walker Area Community Foundation is here to serve our community. "It is of utmost importance to the Foundation that our donors have the ability to fulfill their passion through their charitable giving and create impactful results through the process. Our community faces many challenges in the days ahead, but we as a foundation are ready to act in a way that moves us forward into a better tomorrow," says Kennedy.

Onward Fund

The Walker Area Community Foundation has established the Onward Fund, which will foster efficient, streamlined service delivery to people in need, moving individuals and families forward rather than seeing progress stop because of a lack of funding.

Nonprofits may apply on behalf of individuals for cases that meet the following criteria:

- Client issues that are outside the bounds of normal nonprofit funding and therefore stop forward progress for families or individuals to become financially stable.
- Clients who have been financially stable but have an emergency situation that has created a single need that a nonprofit cannot support (i.e., broken car part).
- Deferred maintenance on homes that are owned by the client that create an environment that is not safe, sanitary or secure.
- Foster families in support of preparing their home for foster children, as well as to meet the needs of children once placed. Funding from DHR must be exhausted before applications are eligible for funding.
- Needs such as food, shelter, utilities and medications are not considered for funding, as they are already supported through the Walker Area Community Foundation's normal grant process.

ONWARD FUND
Moving forward rather than coming to an end.

The Onward Fund was created in January 2019, and the first round of funding was given in February.

Mission of Hope

Client is a 31-year old female with two children; she is searching for employment but has no childcare for her younger child so cannot go on interviews. Onward funding was approved for up to two months of daycare so that she will have time to enroll in Jasper Area Family Resource Centers Gen2 program, which will help her seek employment as well as provide for childcare while she is in the program.

Youth Advocacy Program

Client is a male who just found out he has a 12-year-old son who is in foster care. The father was living in a home with several other family members but needed to be in his own home if he wanted custody of his son. He is employed and has moved into a home but needed repairs to the water heater and a stove.

Walker County Coalition for the Homeless

Client is a female who has been through Pearson Hall and Lovelady for drug treatment and is now 18 months sober. She has a 2-year-old son and has been employed but is searching for a new job. The Onward Fund approved a grant to replace her upper denture plate, as her current one did not fit well in her mouth and hindered her ability to communicate.

Salvation Army

Client is a 50-year-old female who is trying to get a job but does not have a driver's license. She had been interviewed for a job but needs identification to be hired. Onward funding was approved to pay the issue fee for driver's license.

Salvation Army

Client is a 24-year-old female whose young son died last year, and she is still trying to get on her feet. She needs a driver's license to be able to get a job. She does not have substance issues; she's just had a hard time. Onward funding was approved to pay the issue fee for driver's license.

Salvation Army

Client is a 50-year-old female who has just moved away from a bad relationship. She needs a driver's license to be able to work. Onward funding was approved to pay issue fee for driver's license.
